

SENIOR TRIP

Dawn makes it's entry on Silent, stealthy feet, quickly and quietly erasing the darkness from the sky, leaving grayness in its place. There, in the distance, struggles an amorphous mass Wait! This mass is beginning to take some kind of form. What is it? It's a sleepy Senior headed for the bus leaving for the Jack and Jill Ranch.

After reaching the ranch about 10:00 a.m. each Senior received Jack and Jill badges with their names on them. They then proceeded to the Pow-Wow Room where instructions regarding use of camp equipment were given. Then they were free to enjoy the various recreational facilities such as horseback riding, swimming, water bikes, boating, archery, tennis, table tennis, shooting on the rifle range, shuffle board, and horse shoes. They enjoyed two large Jack and Jill meals spiced (or spiked) with a little entertainment. After supper there Was dancing down in the canteen, boating or just plain loafing.

As a special treat there was a hay ride. After riding on the wagons for a while, the wagons stopped and the group followed a path lighted by lamps to a campfire. While seated around the campfire there was a joke-telling contest, Singing contest, and entertainment by a ballad singer. Afterwards everyone boarded the wagons and headed back to the ranch. After securing their possessions and having snacks, they wearily boarded the buses, leaving new friends, but taking many happy memories and sore muscles with them.
